'I saw God take my baby,' mother says

Theresa Nance clutched a photograph of her son and wept as she described to a coroner's jury the sight of her 3-year-old boy engulfed in flames.

"I heard him yell, 'Mommy, Mommy,'" a distraught Nance testified during an inquest Wednesday. "I ran back into the flames but it was too hot. I tried to get my son, I tried to save him but I couldn't do it."

Her son, Joshua Patterson, died of facial and body burns and high intensity heat in a house fire June 21 at 229 Walnut St. in Roxana. The coroner's jury ruled the death an accident.

"When I went back to get him, I saw God take my baby," Nance cried as she cradled her son's picture close to her chest.

"I saw him. I saw a shadow and then I saw my baby's hair glow. It glowed just like it does in this picture. It was the most beautiful thing I had ever seen. I ran outside and I told everybody my baby was dead."

Nance's emotional story drew a visibly moved spectators,

"I heard him yell, 'Mommy, Mommy.'" I ran back into the flames but it was too hot. I tried to get my son, I tried to save him but I couldn't do it."

including courthouse regulars accustomed to listening to testimony in corner cases.

The boy apparently ignited the blaze about 1 p.m. inside a bedroom closet while playing with a lighter. The child's body was discovered on the floor of the closet, covered with clothes he apparently tried to use as a shield from the flames.

Nance's two other children, Randy Nance, 11, and Gary Nance, 12, were outside playing when the fire broke out in the boy's first-floor bedroom.

Nance, 33, said she was sitting in the living room talking with a friend when she smelled smoke.

She said she ran into the bedroom and saw flames shooting from a closet.

"I ran back there in the bedroom and the flames were so high," she said. "There were flames — so high — so many flames. I threw a bucket of water in there but it was not enough."

Nance and her friend called 911 before she ran back to the bedroom to try to save her son.

"I tried to grab him but it was so hot," she said. "His little body was on fire."

Madison County Coroner's investigator Ralph Baahmann Jr. testified that Joshua's body was covered with third-degree burns.

"She found the child burning," he said. "They made attempts to save him but were driven back by the smoke and flames. Two other children in the house made it out safely."

Firefighters put out the fire in about one hour, but it was too late for the boy, he said.

"The death could have happened very rapidly," Baahmann said. "He was breathing poisoned gas and heated air."

Nance said Joshua had tried to play with lighters before but was never able to ignite a flame. She said she was missing a lighter that day and was using the stove to light her cigarettes.

Church getting help, considers rebuilding

Mother Nature's fury of two weeks ago is reaping love and generosity from members of a church destroyed by fire.

Workers tore down the remaining brick walls of Center Grove Presbyterian Church in Glen Carbon Wednesday and hauled away debris.

Laidlaw Waste Systems Inc. donated the trucks, labor and dumping, said a grateful Rev. Anthony Casoria, the pastor.

On July 13, a bolt of lightning struck the church at 6979 Center Grove Road, igniting a fire. In little more than an hour, the 3-month-old church and the labors of congregation members who helped build it had gone up in flames.

Since then, the community has rallied to the side of the homeless congregation.

"We've had lots of offers for help," said Casoria, among them an invitation from Werner Chapel for Funerals in Ponton Beach, which had a fire several months ago, to use the chapel for services. A St. Louis brickyard has offered free bricks for the rebuilding.

Last Sunday, the church held services as guests of the Edwardsville YMCA and will be returning rent-free to a banquet hall in Cottonwood Mall, where services were held before the church was built.

In just three days, a fund established at the Bank of Edwardsville garnered $645 and many handwritten notes offering condolences and prayers.

"Almost all of the checks had brief messages," said bank official Kent Weber, who is overseeing the contributions at the bank. "That's the most enjoyable part, reading those."

"I just took the first batch (of checks) over today," he said. "We're at $645. This is pretty good for only a few days."

Casoria said he was "overwhelmed" by the encouragement and support expressed by other area churches and businesses.

"We've had so many phone calls asking where they could send contributions. The outpouring has been tremendous."

While the rubble is cleared away, Casoria said church members await word from their insurance company.

He said he is concerned about replacing 500 to 600 books lost in the fire and that he also worries that the $425,000 in insurance on the building may not be enough to cover the value of volunteer labor contributed by church members. He said he will not ask members to put up drywall, install carpet and do other construction work as they had on the former church.

Until he gets some answers, he said, "This is an opportunity to trust in the Lord."

Casoria said the church board of elders is gathering data to take to the rest of the congregation, then a committee will be formed to consider a new building.

Donations may be sent to: Center Grove Presbyterian Church Fire Relief Fund, C/O Kent Weber, Bank of Edwardsville, 330 W. Vandalia St., Edwardsville, IL 62025.

Venice 'drug house' raided

Venice police raided a suspected "drug house" Thursday and a Venice man was charged with two counts of possession of an unlawful substance with the intent to deliver.

Marvin Terrell, 57, of the 300 block of Baucum Avenue, was taken to the Madison County Jail Friday night pending $75,000 bond.

Venice Police Sgt. Theo Adams said, "We got a search warrant yesterday (July 21) and attacked the house. We found several capsules of heroin and small packages of crack cocaine."

There were also several used syringes with people's names on them like "Wild Bill" and "Greg," Adams said.

Police reported the arrest stems from a year-long investigation of buys of controlled substances from Terrell's home. After receiving several reports of drug deals, Adams said, police began making drug purchases there.

Terrell has a prior conviction of possession of a controlled substance from 1990, officials said.

New Wilson Park pool opens to rave reviews

By Bob Slate
Staff writer.

The new $2 million Wilson Park swimming pool opened to the public Saturday to rave reviews from near-capacity crowds.

Dave Polivick, director of parks and recreation for the Granite City Park District, said that 722 people used the pool Saturday. Capacity is just under 800.

"We're very pleased. It has been a long time coming, but all the work is now paying off," Polivick said.

"This is a great way to cool off," said Ronnie Langsdorf, one of more than 700 people to visit the new pool Monday.

"It's a lot better than riding your bike or washing the car," Langsdorf said.

Langsdorf, 14, and Chris Evans, also 14, said that the cool water was a welcome relief after mowing grass earlier in the day.

"I like the slide and the diving board," Evans said.

The new pool features a zero-entry end for ease in entering and exiting; a one-meter diving board; a corkscrew slide; cascading waterfalls; and play areas in the children's pool section.

The slide appeared to be the "hottest" attraction Saturday when there were more than 2,240 trips down the slide.

Foggy Holtmann, 43, visited the pool Monday afternoon with her daughter Theresa Lisc and three grandchildren.

"I like the way it is set up for the little kids and the big kids. The slide and the other features are real nice. And there are lots of lifeguards so you know it is safe," Holtmann said.

She said she would "probably be at home doing nothing" were it not for the new pool.

Danny Greene, a firefighter paramedic, sat comfortably at pool-side while his children Danny, 5, and Kenny Knott, 13, played.

"It's new and it's nice and it gives the kids something to do," Greene said. He said young Danny attended swimming lessons earlier in the day.

"That's all I've heard all day. When are we going back?" Patrick Jarman, Jacob Seabres and Joey Allan, all 12, said they prefer the new park pool to Paddlers, a private pool where they had been guests periodically earlier this summer.

"It's nice having a big pool in your area. It's a lot better than Paddlers because there's more things to do like the slide and the diving board," Allen said.

None of the interviewed seemed to mind the long lines that formed near the slide and diving board.

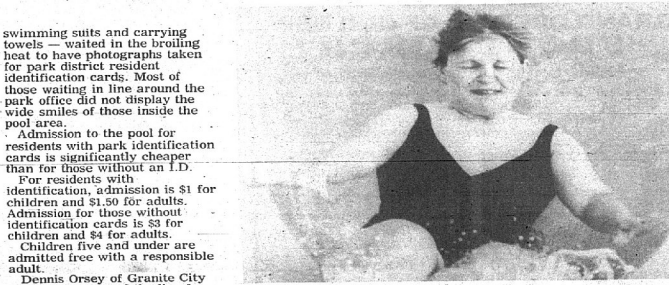

"It's worth the wait. It lets you think about what you're going to do next," Allen said.

But even longer lines formed around the park office Monday as more than 100 residents, some of them wearing

The long-awaited opening of the new Wilson Park Swimming Pool on Saturday was such a big event that those first in line waited more than an hour to get tickets. swimming suits and carrying towels — waited in the broiling heat to have photographs taken for park district resident identification cards. Most of those waiting in line around the park office did not display the wide smiles of those inside the pool area.

Admission to the pool for residents with park identification cards is significantly cheaper than for those without an I.D.

For residents with identification, admission is $1 for children and $1.50 for adults. Admission for those without identification cards is $3 for children and $4 for adults.

Children five and under are admitted free with a responsible adult.

Dennis Orsey of Granite City said he anticipated the line for identification cards.

"We saw in the paper a couple of weeks ago that the admission would be much lower with the I.D. So we decided to have them made then to avoid the wait."

Orsey said. Jarred LaPeire, who gave an age of "almost 4," munched on a hot dog from the concession stand between dips in the pool.

Why does Jarred like the new pool?

"Because," he said. "It's fun," he elaborated.

ID card photos to be taken

The Granite City Park District will hold special sessions for photographs for district resident identification cards tomorrow, Thursday.

Sessions will be held during three two-hour periods during the day. The times are from 9 to 11 a.m., from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 5 to 7 p.m. The photo sessions are for resident of the park district only.

District photo ID cards are required to receive discounted resident rates at the new park swimming pool and other park district programs.

The cards cost $3 each and are valid for three years. The special sessions are being arranged for those not able to attend during regularly scheduled hours.

For more information, persons may call the Wilson Park office at 877-3059.

specially made.

Her trade is a little out of the ordinary, as most bakeries today buy roses already made, or they ice rose buds directly to the cake.

Not Eva, though. She makes pans and pans of butter cream icing roses six days a week.

She also helps out at the bakery by icing cakes. And, according to her daughter, Agnes Freeman, "She's a good supervisor."

Eva claims that she has never gotten tired of the bakery business. Not the first one in Lincoln Place, where service men came for hot doughnuts, and not the present one which, at one time, was involved in an explosion.

Tom and Eva always had dreams of building a bakery in Madison. So, after purchasing property, they opened their Busy Bee establishment at 806 Madison Ave. on Aug. 22, 1947.

They had two daughters, Agnes and Betty, and Eva said they were "born into the business."

The girls worked at the bakery all through school. Agnes said that, even though she's always loved the business, it did disrupt her and her sister's lives—at times.

"We had to make so many boxes to be able to go to the basketball game," she remembered.

And even though it used to get in her way, Busy Bee Bakery now is her way. Agnes and her late husband, Paul Freeman, joined the business in 1955.

Tom and Eva remained active in the bakery until Tom's health kept him from working. In 1964, Paul and Agnes purchased the bakery.

In 1972, an explosion across the street caused extensive damage to the front of the bakery, so a new entrance was built along with a modern-looking store front.

Agnes and Paul continued to operate the bakery until Paul died in 1989. Agnes still held onto the business and runs it with her mother's assistance.

Ten employees help shoulder the baking load. Mark Hunter and Elizabeth Arnold have both been with Busy Bee for 20 years. Deloris J. Wilson has been there for 13 years.

The bakery, which has been in operation for over 50 years, makes doughnuts, Danish rolls, breads, pies and coffee cakes, all from "scratch."

It has been shipping its traditional nut and poppy seed rolls to many states, and many ethnic pastries are also made at Busy Bee.

Agnes said she sees another generation coming into the bakery and is glad that old traditions are returning.

"The customers are friendly, samples are always given and tours for children are also given."

"We attribute our success to our fine pastries, courteous employees and wonderful customers," she said. She also mentioned that Busy Bee has a "fantastic" decorating department for party and wedding cakes.

The decorating department, of course, includes Eva, who still comes to work bright and early every morning.

In fact, if she's not there by 7 a.m., the other employees start to worry and call her on the telephone. "They take care of me," she said, pointing to a huge sign in the back of the bakery which reminds Eva to take her medication.

Eva doesn't let a little arthritis keep her from making cake roses. "It doesn't bother me. Making the roses keeps my hands moving," she said.

The decorating sisters can't keep her from the bakery. "My sister always calls and asks me if I'm going to work again because I love it," she said.

Eva comes to work regularly through hot ice and snow. When asked how long she will continue to work in the bakery, she replied, "As long as God lets me."

'Royal ball' to salute area's 'good kids'

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

Newspapers and television are filled with stories about youths involved in violent crimes, in trouble with drugs or alcohol, or turning to gangs.

Ann Ervin says those stories don't offer much encouragement to the young people who manage to avoid such pitfalls.

"It tells the kids that if they're bad, they'll probably get noticed," Ervin said.

With the help of her sister, Brenda Ervin, the Venice resident has tried to do something about that.

Ervin's contribution is a "royal ball" set for 6 p.m. Aug. 6 at the Miner's Theater in Collinsville. Participants from all over Madison County will don formal attire to be individually introduced to — and hopefully lauded by — the audience.

"We need to show the kids there is a different side of life," said Ervin. "They need to be recognized at some time just for being a good kid."

The evening will also feature songs and poetry by some of the participants.

Ervin said the ball will feature youths from Collinsville, Edwardsville, Madison, Venice and Alton.

The ball is the culmination of a six-week workshop designed for 8- to 18-year-olds that was sponsored by the Bibleway Deliverance Center in Venice.

The workshop combined Bible messages with lessons in attitude, etiquette, stress and problem resolution, Ervin said.

Some, but not all, of the ball participants took part in the workshop, she said. Other participants came from various youth groups that Ervin is active with.

"We want to present these kids to society as proof of the good that's out there," Ervin said. "People can show their support by coming."

Tickets are $5 each. The male and female participant selling the most tickets will be crowned king and queen, respectively.

Tickets can be purchased the night of the ball or by contacting Ervin at 682-7040, ext. 4210, or 432-5444.

Pay

said.

However, she does have that authority now after being named interim superintendent at a special board meeting held July 19.

A $10,000 raise for Assistant Superintendent Everage during the 1994-95 school year was also questioned by Smith. Everage received $46,000 for 1993-94. For the 1994-95 school year, Everage will receive $51,000 plus retirement benefits.

"When any person in this district gets a $10,000 pay raise, it's hard to justify when teachers have taken pay freezes," Smith said.

Everage explained that she will be paid from programs she administered and will be saving the district $8,000 in the general fund.

She said, "I am getting a pay increase, but I didn't take money from teachers or students."

Kostenick emphasized the point that Everage's salary will not take money from teachers or students.

He added that, according to state norms, teachers in the Madison district have been "extremely well-compensated," while administrators have stayed at the same level.

Foe blasts Durbin

The Republican opponent of U.S. Rep. Richard Durbin, D-Springfield, is charging the congressman is "lying" about his position on Social Security.

GOP candidate Bill Owens of Springfield held a news conference Thursday to deny that he is in favor of abolishing Social Security.

He objected to a fund-raising letter to senior citizens in which Durbin charged that Owens, as a longtime member of the John Birch Society, "wants to abolish the Social Security system and Medicare."

The letter charges Owens would leave the elderly "in threadbare dresses eating scraps to keep from starving."

The letter sought a contribution of at least $25 to "help me get the message out to our friends and neighbors that Mr. Owens is a Birchier." The letter called the society "the political screwballs of the 50s and 60s."

Owens said Thursday he does not agree with all the positions of the John Birch Society, to which he has belonged for 15 years. He said he does not favor abolishing Social Security but wants those entering the job market to have the option of private insurance.

In response the Durbin camp quoted a statement in the John Birch Society magazine calling for phasing out the Social Security system and noted articles in which Owens was quoted as saying "Social Security should be abolished."

Owens said he was proud of his membership in the John Birch Society, saying it stands for "God, country and freedom" and described Durbin as an "ultra liberal."

Plans

would result in substantial savings of district operating costs. Huff's renovation proposal, estimated to cost $2,500,000 plus a $2 million contingency, included both remodeling and new construction. Huff also proposed a brand new building at a cost of $26.5 million. Thompson offered several options, ranging in price from $11 million to $21 million.

A $12 million option presented by Thompson included renovating Coolidge Junior High School into a high school facility and adding rooms to Grigsby Junior High School to accommodate all junior high school students in the district. Another, slightly less expensive option included renovating the high school and the two junior highs at a cost of about $11.5 million.

Also last week, the board elected member Pete Novacich to the position of vice president and elected member Jeff Parker as school treasurer.

New board member Rick Dickerson was officially seated on the board. Dickerson fills the vacancy created by the death of President Magrore Worthen.

Trees & Shrubs

on sale this week at Frank's!
Here are some planting tips.

FRANK'S

NURSERY & CRAFTS

Where Beautiful Things Begin

Adding some trees, shrubs or both to your landscape can be done any time during the gardening season. If you've been putting the planting off until fall, there's really no need to. There's a good reason to do it now, and that is Frank's big sale of trees, evergreens and flowering shrubs.

The selection and quality are top. Concerned about the plants surviving the hot weather? No need to be. Simply give 'em a tad more care and they'll do just fine. Besides, all of Frank's trees, shrubs and evergreens are fully guaranteed for a year, so you can plant them with confidence.

Here are a few tips on successful planting.

- Dig a hole three to four times the width and as deep as the plant's root ball.
- Add some organic matter such as compost or peat moss to the soil removed from the hole. Thoroughly mix these amendments. This soil mix is called the backfill. The organic matter should make up no more than about a third of the backfill.
- Remove the plant from its container. If the roots are tightly packed or are circling around the bottom of the root ball, use a knife or your fingers to free them. You won't hurt the plant, just be careful of your fingers!
- Set the plant in the hole, making sure it's straight.

- Add some backfill around the roots and then water to help the soil settle quickly. Keep alternating soil and water until the backfill is even with the surrounding soil. Rake the soil level around the planting site. Cover it with a landscape fabric, then add a 2" to 4" layer of organic mulch such as wood chips or bark nuggets. By the way, Frank's also has decorative bark on sale this week.
- Finally, keep the new tree or shrub well watered.

For balled and burlapped plants, follow basically the same procedure. But leave the burlap in place. After digging the hole and preparing the soil, place the plant in the hole. Cut the twine or wire that strapped around the base of the trunk or stem. Pull the cloth down around the sides of the root ball so that no burlap will be above the soil level.

New trees should be staked to protect them from potential damaging winds. The twine or wire you use should be highly visible at all times. Never allow the twine or wire to contact the bark of the tree. Flexible plastic tubing is excellent for this. It's inexpensive and readily available at any hardware store. All you have to do is make a strip a few inches long, run the wire through it and bend it around the tree's bark. If you have an old garden hose that you no longer need, it can be cut into strips and used the same way.

Stakes should not be left in place any longer than one year. The slight movement of the tree in a breeze actually stimulates the formulation of new roots.

Thompson twins

Brandi Ann Cox Thompson and Randy Lee Cox Thompson, twins, were stillborn on Wednesday, July 20, 1994, at Riverside West Hospital in Minneapolis, Minn.

They are survived by their mother, Joy Thompson, and their father, Tim Cox, both of Welch, Minn.; maternal grandparents, Dean and Dorothy Thompson of Welch; paternal grandmother, Mary Cox of Granite City; maternal great-grandfather, John Bessaman of Granite City; and maternal great-grandmothers, Lorraine Krivl of Mount Olive and Arlene Thompson of Wilber, Mo.

The twins were preceded in death by an uncle, Duane Thompson; paternal grandfather, Charles Franklin Cox; and maternal great-grandfather, Ernest Thompson.

A graveside service was held Monday at Sunset Hill Memorial Estates, Glen Carbon, with the Rev. Kenneth Martin officiating. Arrangements were made by Thomas Memorial Mortuary, Granite City.

Anthony Wiehardt

Anthony J. Wiehardt, 76, of Granite City died at St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 9:45 p.m. Monday, July 25, 1994, after a five-year illness.

He was born March 30, 1918, in Granite City.

Mr. Wiehardt served in the Army Infantry in World War II. He was employed as a coder operator at Madison Metal Decorating and was a member of Holy Family Catholic Church, Granite City.

Survivors include his wife, the former Norma Howard, whom he married March 14, 1942; four sons, Eric P. Wiehardt of Somerset, N.J., Vin R. Wiehardt and Art C. Wiehardt, both of Granite City, and Kevin J. Wiehardt of Macomb; a daughter, Karen J. Raynor of Granite City; four brothers, Edward, Hugo, Ray and Robert Wiehardt; two sisters, Rita Hornberger and Dorothy Landers; and 11 grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his parents, George and Mary (Weber) Wiehardt; and one brother, Vincent Wiehardt.

Visitation will be from 5-8 p.m. today at Irwin Chapel, 3950 Maryville Road, Granite City. Services will be held at 9 a.m. Thursday at Holy Family Catholic Church, 2808 Washington Ave., Granite City, with the Rev. William Fisherkeller officiating. Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery in Glen Carbon.

Memorials to the American Cancer Society are suggested.

Christine Bales

Christine A. Jensen Bales, 46, of Granite City died suddenly at 2:38 a.m. Saturday, July 23, 1994, at home.

Born April 24, 1948, in Oconto, Wis., she was a homemaker.

Survivors include her husband, Robert Bales Jr., of Granite City; her father, John Jensen, and mother, Dorothy (McGill) Jensen, both of St. Peters, Mo.; two sons, Daniel Alan Stueck of Kirkwood, Mo., and Derek Michael Nickerson of Granite City; two brothers, Rick Jensen and Rusty Jensen, both of St. Peters, Mo.; two sisters, Barbara Payette and Diane Wesemann, both of St. Peters; one grandson, Zachary Alexander Furl Stueck; and her paternal grandmother, Ada Jensen of St. Peters.

There was no visitation. Funeral services were held Tuesday at Irwin Chapel, Granite City.

Survivors include his wife, Sharon (Stout) Arbogast; two sons, John Dustin Arbogast and Drew Anthony Arbogast; and two daughters, Stephanie Marie Arbogast and Holly Dailey, all of Granite City; his parents, John W. and Eva (Robertson) Arbogast of Springfield, Ill.; two sisters, Colleen Rae Bondy of Jacksonville, Ill., and Laura Lyn Patyk of Lott, Ill.; and one grandson, Luke Dailey of Granite City.

He was preceded in death by one grandson, Jacob William Dailey. Services will be held at 10 a.m. today at Thomas Memorial Mortuary, 2205 Pontoon Road, Granite City, with the Rev. Rose Hermanot officiating. Burial will be at St. John Cemetery, Granite City.

Memorials are suggested for St. Peter's United Church of Christ.

Kathryn McGee

Kathryn Cecilia (McLean) McGee, 81, of Granite City died 5:45 a.m. Sunday, July 24, 1994, at Colonial Care Center in Granite City. She had been ill for several years.

Born May 30, 1913, in Granite City, she was a lifelong resident. She worked as a beautician at Polly Prim Beauty Shop in Granite City and later was employed as a clerical assistant for the U.S. government until retirement.

Mrs. McGee was a member of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, Granite City, and a charter member of the Granite City Elks.

Survivors include one sister-in-law, Conieth McGee of Granite City; two nephews, Gregory McGee of Granite City and Vincent McGee of Bozeman, Mont.; three nieces, Georgann McGee of Granite City, Monica McGee of Las Cruces, N.Mex., and Maureen McGee-Ballinger of Flamingo Bay, Fla.; and one great-nephew, Alexander Hillmer-McGee of Granite City.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Roy Dean McGee, whom she married Feb. 10, 1942, and died Dec. 23, 1991, and her parents, John T. and Mary (Comfort) McLean.

A graveside service was held Tuesday at Calvary Cemetery, Glen Carbon. A memorial service will be held at a later date at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, Pontoon and Johnson roads, Granite City.

Memorials suggested are Masses at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church or gifts to the Granite City Public Library District.

Charles James Collins III, 31, of Kincaid, Ill., died Saturday, July 23, 1994, at his home.

He was born July 16, 1963, in Henderson, Ky., and was of the Baptist faith.

Mr. Collins was a member of the Seafarers Union, a graduate of Harry T. Lindburg School, Piney Point, Pa., and was employed as a laborer/relief operator with Wagner's.

Survivors include his wife, Doris (David) Collins, whom he married on April 29, 1988; his father, Charles Collins Jr. of Granite City; his mother, Vonda (Tackett) Collins, and stepfather, David Collins, both of Taylorville, Ill.; four sons, Damien Collins, Drew Collins, Tori Collins and Tyler Collins, all of Kincaid; one brother, Daniel Collins of San Diego, Calif.; three sisters, Pamela Wiesehan and Lydia Collins, both of Granite City, and Eugenia Gibson of Belleville; and one stepdaughter, Debra Hubbs of Olympia, Wash.

There was no visitation. Funeral services were held Monday at Shaffer Funeral Home Ltd., Taylorville.

Bi-State, MetroLink receive recognition

In recent weeks, the Bi-State Development Agency and its light rail system, MetroLink, have been the recipients of several awards for outstanding contributions to the community.

The Bi-State Transit System also received national recognition for its improved safety record in bus operations.

Stephen E. Willis, Deputy Executive Director of MetroLink Engineering and Construction was presented the Outstanding Engineer in Government award for 1994 by the St. Louis Chapter of the Missouri Society of Professional Engineers. Willis directed the successful engineering and construction of the 18-mile, 18-station MetroLink light rail system.

The Hospitality Sales and Marketing Association International presented the Morris Landau award to Bi-State. The award is in recognition for "outstanding contributions to the hospitality industry" in meeting the needs of the traveling public.

Arts in Transit, formed in 1986 to improve the look of the MetroLink light rail system through community partnerships and public artworks by regional and national artists, received the "Better Downtown Award" from Downtown St. Louis Inc. The award was for the initiative and responsibility demonstrated by Arts in Transit in improving the visual environment.

As part of Preservation Week, MetroLink was one of 23 projects receiving a Cultural Heritage and Urban Design Award. Bi-State's Executive Director Jack Leary received the Russell Jost Award for Design Excellence for MetroLink and its stations.

Bi-State was also the recipient of the William T. Coleman Improvement Award in the 1994 American Public Transit Association Bus Safety Award Competition.

cadmium and chromium that exceeded the maximum safe levels.

Among the cleanup alternatives that have been suggested are removal of the scrap pile material to Doe Run's Buick, Mo., facility for recycling, and rero-tilling contaminated residential soils to a depth of 18 inches, thus reducing lead concentrations to lower, more acceptable levels.

Laws promised city officials he would expedite a study to determine the feasibility of removing the lead pile and coordinate communications between EPA Region V (here) and Region VII (Missouri).

He said he would also explain why rero-tilling—proposed for the local site four years ago—has been deemed unacceptable here but has been approved by EPA for a Superfund lead cleanup less than 50 miles from here in Beckmeier, Ill.

Costello and city officials called the promise by Laws to re-evaluate the ROD and consider alternatives to the proposed remedy "a welcome change."

"The willingness of EPA to at least reconsider decisions is a welcome change," Costello said. "I look forward to continued indications that EPA will consider alternatives to the cleanup remedy outlined in the Record of Decision," he said.

Solph thanked Costello for his continued support and interest in our situation.

Collinsville rallies past Triplets 2-1

By Tony Panozzo
Staff writer

Tri-City had twice the hits, but Collinsville finished with twice the runs in Monday's 2-1 victory over the Triplets in the District 22 North Division double elimination playoffs at Varsity Field.

A seventh-inning double by Collinsville's Brian Muniz brought home Mike Radosevich for the game-winning run. The double by Muniz, the only extra-base hit in the game and only the third hit by Collinsville off Tri-City starter Corey Dickerson, proved to be the difference in a pitching duel between Dickerson and Collinsville's Steve Connor.

Connor got through the bottom of the seventh to seal the win for Post 365, which advanced to Tuesday's second-round contest against Edwardsville. Tri-City was scheduled to face Alton, which lost 10-4 to Edwardsville in the opening game Monday.

TRI-CITY, WHICH OUTLINED Collinsville 6-3, struck quickly in the first inning and took a 1-0 lead. But that proved to be the only scoring for the hosts. After Collinsville made it 1 in the third, the game remained tied until the top of the seventh as Dickerson and Connor traded off turns on the mound.

"It was just a matter of who was going to make a mistake first or who was going to get a key hit first," Collinsville manager Steve Helmkamp said. "Luckily, it was us."

Dickerson, who tossed a one-hitter June 14 in a 5-0 win over Collinsville, did not have the same luck this time. Collinsville scored in the third when it loaded the bases and Derek Johnson hit a double-play grounder that scored Mike Ax. Ax and Brent Page began the inning with consecutive singles, Collinsville's first two hits of the game.

After retiring Johnson, Dickerson struck out Paul Helmkamp and retired the next 10 batters in a row. With one out in the seventh, Radosevich reached on an error by third baseman Jason Wood. Muniz followed with his double, which cleared the gap in right-center field and rolled to the fence.

We were just trying to put the ball into play," Helmkamp said. "We got the key hit."

"COREY PITCHED A heck of a game," Tri-City manager Doug Winfield said. "We just have to play better."

Tri-City second baseman Brian Etherton comes up sliding in a pickoff attempt. The Triplets began the District 22 North Division playoffs Monday with a loss to Collinsville.

Division playoffs with the No. 2 seed, and Alton was seeded first. The lower-seeded team won both games Monday. Tri-City dropped to 13-10 in league play, while Alton fell to 18-5.

"Not only are we in the loser's bracket, we're playing the top team," Winfield said. Collinsville and Edwardsville, meanwhile, both upheld their league records to 13-10.

"This is kind of exciting for us," Helmkamp said. "It gets us to playing on Wednesday."

Tri-City's offensive struggles continued against Connor, who improved to 7-1. Dickerson dropped to 6-2.

THE TRIPLETS SCORED one run in the first and could have had more. Brian Kohler led off Wednesday, July 27.

O'Fallon finishes off Junior Triplets

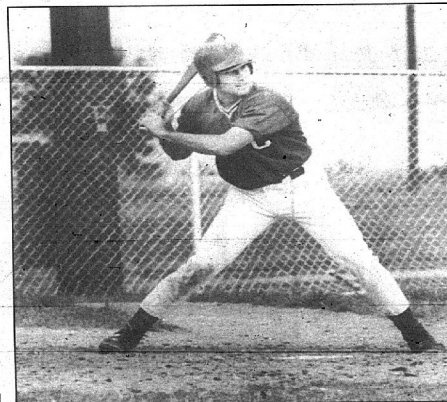

By Rob Raphael
Correspondent

There are good days, and there are bad, and the Tri-City Junior Triplets picked the wrong day to be bad as they fell 9-5 to O'Fallon in the third-place game of the District 22 Junior Legion playoffs Sunday at Hoppe Park.

Earlier in the day, the Junior Triplets, who finished the season 15-9 overall, lost to North Division champion Alton in a second-round game.

South Division champ Collinsville defeated Alton 6-5 late Sunday to take the District 22 crown and advance to the state tournament.

TRI-CITY MANAGER Jerry McKechan said he was not ashamed of his team's fourth-place finish.

Eagles' rally salvages split with Wizards

Hendrickson homer leads Granite City in second-game win

By R.J. Gerber

It seemed like the Granite City Eagles were on their way to being swept by the worst team in the Mon-Clair League on Sunday. Then Darin Hendrickson stepped in.

Hendrickson, who suffered the loss in Sunday's opening game at Sauget, belted a three-run homer in the top of the seventh of game 2 and the Eagles rallied for an 8-6 victory.

After dropping the opener 6-3 to the Wizards, Granite City fell behind 6-3 after six innings in the nightcap. But Hendrickson, known more for his pitching exploits than his offensive capabilities, tied the game with a three-run shot.

THAT WAS FOLLOWED by a triple from Tim Hogan, who scored when brother Jamie followed with a sacrifice fly. Daren DePew added an insurance run when he hit a solo homer with two outs.

The Eagles, who moved to 18-4 in league play and maintained their hold on first place in the North Division, avoided an embarrassing loss. Sauget is 2-22 and last in the South.

"Things weren't going real well for us and we just weren't hitting the ball in the first game," said DePew, the Eagles' player-manager. "All the breaks went to Sauget, but we gave them some credit. They've got some good ballplayers."

After sweeping East Alton on July 17, DePew said there may have been a letdown on the Eagles' part. But that's no excuse, he said.

"WE DIDN'T HIT well and we made a few errors. We seemed a little off," he said. (See EAGLES, Page 5B)

Playoff loss ends Juniors' win streak, title hopes

By Rob Raphael
Correspondent

Coming into the District 22 Junior Legion playoffs at Edwardsville, the Tri-City Junior Triplets were rolling.

They had not lost a game in 2½ weeks. Every aspect of their game seemed to be in top form, and the Junior Triplets seemed ready to make a run at the district title.

EVERY SATURDAY, AS the Junior Triplets opened the weekend playoffs against Wood River, the streak continued. Tri-City cruised to a 14-6 win, stroking 15 hits off three Wood River pitchers.

The only thing that didn't work was manager Jerry McKechan's plan to come back with starting pitcher Shaun Kuehnell five days after Tri-City defeated Wood River to clinch second place in the North Division.

Kuehnell struggled with his control, and his defense did not back him up well, as Wood River took a 3-1 lead in the top of the third inning.

"Shaun had a tough couple of innings, but his teammates didn't pick him up either," McKechan said. "We did come back strong, however."

Strung, indeed. The Junior Triplets scored two runs in the third, four in the fourth, one in the fifth and six in the sixth to run away with the victory.

Sunday morning, the Triplets faced regular-season champ Alton in the tournament's second round. The magic seemed to be there in that game as well, as Tri-City jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the first.

Even after Kuehnell gave up four runs in the bottom of the first, Tri-City still looked confident after coming back with three in the second to take a 3-1 lead.

BUT THE TRAIN stopped there. Alton manager Terry Peek brought right fielder Jeremy Elliott to relieve starting pitcher Matt Bowen with two out in the second inning.

Elliott proceeded to fire 5½ innings of near-perfect relief. The right-hander allowed

Downing drives into winner's circle at Tri-City

Second-year sensation Wayne Downing waited one month to win his first title.

He waited another three hours to win his sixth — Saturday at Tri-City Speedway.

The 17-year-old started off the evening by winning the June 25th make-up feature for Allied Auto Racing Association Street Stocks over Steve Maisel and Mike Adler for his fifth Clark "On the Go" Racing Series victory.

Dean Pruett and Rick Michels rounded out the top five.

A broken rocker arm stud forced Downing to sit out the heats and Champion Spark Plug Dash. Starting the regularly scheduled feature from the last row, Downing charged through the pack and staged a wheel-to-wheel battle with Maisel and Gary Haynes. Following Downing past the checkers were Haynes, Maisel, Michels and Stan Prybyz.

TOMMY SCOTT RACED to his eighth KOAL Bandit Racing Sprint Car feature win of 1994. Front row starter Ricky Logan grabbed the lead on the first lap with Butch Nuttall right behind.

Scott, coming from the second row, disposed of Jim Moughan and Nuttall within four laps and set sail for Logan.

Scott tried the low groove several times while Logan rim-rode the fast half-mile. Two caution periods closed the gap and when the green flew, Logan again led into turn one. Scott blasted past Logan off of turn two but

Logan refused to give up, slipping past once again. Scott repassed for the lead and never looked back. Rounding out the top five were Logan, Moughan, Gary Hayhurst and Nuttall.

Stu Springer swept home in the AARA Super Sportsman, taking his heat, dash and main event. The 15-year-old was Bob Bittie, Bob Martintoni, Dave Wibbenmeyer and Herman Harndt.

Modified man Mark Schaefer was another clean sweeper Saturday, coming from deep in the pack to post his second Clark "On the Go" Racing Series win of 1994. Coming home second through the fifth were Tim Klatschky, Marc McClinton, Joe Cooksey and Maury Barget.

Tri-City Speedway is located at 2300 2nd St. in Alton, Ill. For more information, call 618-281-1111.

•O'Fallon

Tri-City was stopped Sunday afternoon by O'Fallon pitcher Mike Malters, who pitched five innings for the win. Malters allowed only one run before tiring in the sixth inning.

Malters scattered five hits before running into control problems in the sixth, when he walked three batters. Tri-City got back into the game by playing four runs. But when O'Fallon countered with two in their half of the sixth, it took away any momentum gained by the Junior Triplets.

"Our fundamental mistakes caught up with us today," McKeehan said. "We had been playing so well lately, I guess we were due for a bad game. Unfortunately, it was the playoffs."

Tri-City had won four straight games and seven of eight coming into the tournament, and won Saturday against Wood River despite committing several mental mistakes.

The Junior Triplets' offense carried them Sunday, but they could not sustain their run-scoring pace Sunday.

The Junior Triplets only one hit the rest of the game, while walking no one and fanning three.

"Jeremy did a great job for us," he really stopped their momentum," Beck said. "It was just a huge pick-up for the whole team, and we seemed to respond to him."

"He just came in and threw strikes," McKeehan said of Elliott. "We didn't stay aggressive at the plate, and we weren't able to come back after they took the lead."

Alton tied the game in the fourth on a walk, an error and a fielder's choice. After another pair of fielder's choices in the fifth, they took the lead for good when Justin Wolfe hit a double before center fielder Jon Reader's lead to score Brian Lewis and Alex Sherlock.

Part of Alton's pitching success can be linked to the fact that it held the top of Tri-City's lineup off the bases. Mike Kalips, Brian Lloyd and Kuehnle each managed a hit, but those fourth, after Danny Sergott tried and scored on a wild pitch, Chad Vance's sacrifice fly scored Jeremiah Niemczek and Feeley's single plated Tim Luggie for a 6-1 lead.

Trailing 7-1 after five innings, the Junior Triplets got back into the game thanks to Malters' wildness and Mike Kalips' two-run single.

"I was proud of our guys in the second game," McKeehan said, "because we didn't quit and kept coming at them."

Looking at the season as a whole, McKeehan was pleased. "These kids are still learning, and they have a chance to be much better players next year," he said.

"I think we had a lot of fun this year, and I am proud of the way they made adjustments, learned their individual roles and improved their fundamentals late in the year."

"They represented the Legion very well, and I am sure that will continue for most of them next year. Sometimes you play well and sometimes you don't—that's baseball."

There were three of only five hits Sunday morning for the Junior Triplets.

"I am more upset that we lost that game than the second game (against O'Fallon) today," McKeehan said. "We really had a chance to win that one, and that would have put us in the championship game."

"We didn't execute well at all, and we couldn't come up with the offense to make up for it, which is something we had been doing lately. It's no one's fault, we just didn't get the job done."

with a bunt single, reached second on a throwing error by Connor and took third on a wild pitch. He scored on a groundout by Sean Lakatos.

A walk to Mark Winfield and singles by Andy Roe and Wood loaded the bases, but Connor escaped further damage when Jason Talley flew out to center and Jeff Stamps threw out Winfield at the plate for a double play.

Tri-City had other chances to score. The Triplets had runners at first and third with one out in the sixth. But Scott Nemeth drilled a liner right to Johnson at first base. Johnson touched the bag for another double play.

With one out in the bottom of the seventh, pinch-hitter Joe Zelman singled. But Connor fanned Kohler and Lakatos on two foul-count fastballs to end the game.

Collinsville's ace finished with six strikeouts and shut out the Triplets after the first inning.

"He's really done an outstanding job for us," Heimkamp said. "He's really stepped up. His best pitch is his curveball, and he has a pretty good idea of what he wants to throw."

Connor kept the Triplets guessing wrong for most of the game. Tri-City dropped to 3-5 since losing its top hitter, Jeff Ridenour, to a season-ending injury. Ridenour broke his hand July 14 at Wood River and the Triplets have not been the same since.

"With Ridenour out, it takes away a dimension," Heimkamp said. "We can't score runs, and since Jeff has been injured we're scoring even less."

Vipers players to appear at Glik's

St. Louis Vipers defenseman Brian Rome and Mark Hilton will make an appearance at Glik's Sports store in Bellemore Shopping Center in Granite City from 12-2 p.m. Saturday.

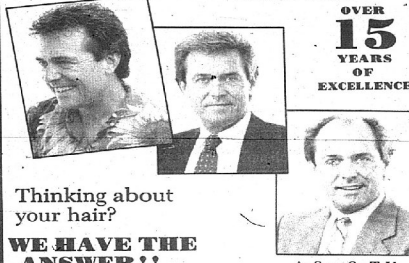

Rome played for the Vipers in 1993 and scored one goal and added six assists in 12 games. He recently returned to the team after recuperating from a knee injury he suffered in the first game of the season. Hilton played for the Florida Hammerheads last season and was the team's fourth leading scorer with 14 goals and 14 assists in 14 games. This season, Hilton has five goals and eight assists in 11 games. Rome and Hilton will be on hand to sign autographs and give fans an opportunity to have their picture taken with them.

old-place finish was especially impressive. Cory Garcia, a 6-foot-8 center, was one of the top players in the tournament, but the Kahoks played without injured starters Doug Davinroy (torn knee ligament) and Brandon Stultz (broken leg).

In addition, Collinsville played four games on Sunday, including two in a one-day tournament at Centralia. Collinsville played one half against an all-star team of older players, then beat Rock Island in overtime before returning to BAC for a 53-49 semifinal win over Cahokia.

Mike Chaney coached the Kahoks on Thursday and Friday, while Dale Dust coached the team at both tournaments on Saturday. Under Illinois High School Association rules, high school coaches are allowed to watch their teams play summer tournaments, but are not allowed to coach.

"We hope this gives kids some exposure to college coaches," Schmidt said. "About 12 colleges sent representatives, including Eastern Illinois, St. Louis U. and SIU-Carbondale."

"Area basketball players should benefit from something like this. We'll try to get as strong a field as possible for next year. If it's the same 16 teams, there were a few surprises at the Summer Slam. Belleville-East, 5-19 last season, was 3-1, beating East St. Louis 66-59 in the consolation and defeating Wesclin 87-82 for fifth place.

Mascoutah, which won eight games last year after going 0-25 the previous season, was 3-1. The Indians lost their first game, but came back to beat Highland, O'Fallon and Waterloo to claim the consolation championship.

For both of those programs, that has to be a shot in the arm," Schmidt said. Other Class AA teams in the Summer Slam were Belleville West (2-2), Cahokia (2), O'Fallon (1-3), Highland (0-3) and East St. Louis (2-2).

Other Class A teams were Wesclin (2-2), Waterloo (2-2), Gliba (3-1), Roxana (0-3), Freeburg (2-2), Althoff (1-3) and Madison (1-3).

"We had a tremendous number of volunteers who helped with admissions, concession stands and running the clock," Schmidt said. "When Don and I started planning this, we didn't know what we were getting into, but everything came great. The response from the coaches was completely positive."

Local bowlers collect winnings in area tourneys

Adam Apo of Florissant continues to shine on the PBA National Tour, but still is seeking his first title after three years traveling the circuit. He posted his best finish on July 12 when he picked up an $8,000 check for third place in the $150,000 Hilton Hotels Classic in Reno, Nev.

The 29-year-old lefthander from Hawaii qualified second but lost to last year's Bowler-of-the-Year, Walter Ray Williams, 244-235, to drop a notch. John Mazza then beat Williams, 267-233, to earn the $27,000 top prize. Butch Soper was fourth and won $6,500 and Bob Benoit was fifth for $5,000.

Soper picked up a $10,000 bonus when he rolled a 300 game in the TV opener, against Benoit's 236.

Chris Jung of Mehlville captured the $500 first prize in the Gran Prix Tournament Olivette Lanes Classic on June 26.

Jung won three matches in the stepladder finals to claim the top check. He beat Al Brinley of Collinsville, 234-227; Chris Taylor of Maplewood, 218-207; and then edged Jim Loesche, Sr. of Belleville, 205-204, for the title.

Brinley opened the finals with a 214-198 decision over Dean Naes of Imperial. Loesche collected $275, Taylor received $200, Brinley won $175, and Naes had $150.

Loesche was the leading qualifier with a 248 average for eight games, while Taylor posted the only 300 game in an 802 series. Walt Stopke, Sr. of St. Peters was sixth to pick up $125, and Tom Shucart of Florissant was seventh for $100. A total of 49 players participated.

Twelve youngsters earned

scholarships in the Gateway Classic Youth Adult Doubles Scholarship Tournament at Strike 'n Spare Lanes, June 18-19. After qualifying, the youngsters paired with an adult for doubles competition with the top four youths in each of three classes receiving the scholarships.

In the Majors Division based on plus or minus 160 qualifying scores, the champion was Craig Sims from Bethalto Airport Plaza. Sims received a $125 scholarship after pairing with adult Richey Oliver. DeWayne Sides from West Park Lanes in Columbia, Ill., was second with Kurt Thompson and won a $100 stipend.

Third place went to Shelly Pulaski from Bowland in Granite City and her partner, Cheryl Haggopian, for a $75 scholarship and fourth place of a $50 amount went to Jeremy Beyer from Bonnie Bowl in Bonne Terre who teamed with Ronald Stover.

In the Classic Division, 170 over or under qualifying scores, the scholarship winners were champion Chris Smith from Scott Air Force Base, $125 scholarship; leading qualifier Lonnie Swisher, from AMP Dick Weber Lanes in Florissant, second for $100; Ben Schoen, from Olivette Lanes, third for $75, and Craig Mueller, from Crest Bowl in Florissant, fourth for $50.

The St. Louis Women's Bowling Association and the Greater St. Louis Men's Bowling Association will hold a combined League Officer Workshop at 12:30 p.m. Saturday, July 30 at Tropicana Lanes.

League supply kits will be available for league presidents or secretaries who register in advance.

Paddlers diving lessons Aug. 1

The Paddlers Swim Club will begin lessons for springboard diving on Monday, Aug. 1. The lessons will be given by Paddlers diving coach Gayle McCormick.

Sign-ups will begin at 10 a.m., and classes will be limited. The cost for the two-week session is $30 for members and $35 for non-members.

Junior Blues seeking players

The St. Louis Junior Blues Junior B hockey team, associated with the North American Junior Hockey League, will have an organizational meeting 7 p.m. Aug. 10 for all players interested in trying out for the team.

The meeting will be at Affton (Mo.) Ice Rink. Players must be 15 by Aug. 31 to be eligible to play this season. Parents are encouraged to attend if they have questions or concerns.

For more information, call Mike Brandt at 947-6985. Last year, the Junior Blues advanced to the National Championships in Bloomington, Minn. But there are plenty of positions available on this year's team because only five players return from last year's squad. The team is coached by Craig Higgs.

lacked last day long," DePew said. Hendrickson suffered his second loss of the season in the opener. The righthander went seven innings and gave up six runs (four earned) on six hits and two walks. He struck out six.

The Wizards were trailing 3-2 heading into the bottom of the fifth when they struck for five runs.

Granite City's offense was limited to a pair of hits in the loss. But that changed in the second game, even though the Eagles needed to rally to gain the split.

GRANITE CITY POUNDED out a dozen safeties in the nightcap, including the homers by Hendrickson and DePew.

Brian Harshany recorded the pitching victory, going 6½ innings. The righthander gave up six earned runs on five hits and two walks. He fanned three.

Bob Spotsansky picked up the save, recording the final two outs.

DePew said dropping the opener was disheartening. "We thought after we lost that game we blew our chance at first place," he said. "But it just got to the point where we weren't very intense. Going into the playoffs, maybe we needed that. We had been on a high for quite a while." The Eagles were rolling along after sweeping East Alton, which came on the heels of a first-place finish at the Valmeyer Tournament.

NEXT UP FOR Granite City is a doubleheader at Valmeyer at 1:30 p.m. Sunday. Valmeyer swept Millstadt to improve to 17-7 Sunday.

"We've got to come to play," DePew said. "We were lucky that we got some breaks (Sunday) and salvaged the split."

Granite City's offense was limited to a pair of hits in the loss. But that changed in the second game, even though the Eagles needed to rally to gain the split.

All-Star Game set again for tonight

The 28th annual Mon-Clair League all-star game will be played at Gibault Field in Waterloo at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The game was originally scheduled for last Wednesday, but was rained out after only a half inning with the North leading 1-0.

Attendance prizes, including six baseballs signed by Whitey Herzog, will be given away. Herzog threw out the first pitch before last Wednesday's action.

20 students graduate from GCHS

In a small ceremony at Granite City High School auditorium July 22, David Painter, principal, extended congratulations to 20 students as summer school graduates.

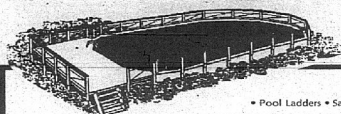

Each student was given a diploma verifying they had completed all requirements of the State Department of Education, North Central Association, the Board of Education at Community Unit School District 9 and Granite City Senior High School for a high school diploma. These students are considered graduates of the May 1994 class.

Also on hand to congratulate these students were: Walt Whitaker, president of the Board of Education; Jim Noth, secretary of the Board of Education; Rick Dickerson, member of the Board of Education; Carolyn Nemeth, member of the Board of Education;

Tom Holloway, administrative assistant of secondary education; R. William Rotter, assistant principal; Allen Kennerly, assistant principal; and family and friends of the summer school graduates. The Student Council served refreshments to all those in attendance.

The 1994 summer school graduates are:

Jamie Dawn Buckingham, Tonya Marie Carpenter, James Loy Chism Jr., Jennifer Marie Gossell, Stacey Lynn Hedgecough, Dawn Michelle Heil, Carey Elizabeth Lassen, David Alan Love, Susanna Bernadine Mikolasek, David Eugene Moussette, Jimmy Lee Riser, Kimberly Renee Robinson, Lon Andrew Smith, Jeremy Allen Taylor, Mark Allen Tieman, Kenneth Lee Wakeford Jr., Lisa Michelle West, Angela Elaine White, Richard Alan Whiteside and Vicky Lynn Zeigler.

All Pools include:
• Filter and Pump
• Huge Sun Deck
• Safety Fence and Stairs
• Heavy Gauge Liner

Horoscope

Wednesday, July 27, 1994
Who can blame the introspective under this full Pisces moon? It's the perfect time to recount, recall and reconsider—especially on highly personal or emotional levels. The few dampers with political views. A war between loyalty and principles will be a close call. Lovers, be generous with affections as well as money. Decisions come into play sooner and more pleasantly.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Stay on top of work or school assignments—it's easy to get behind. Lost items are returned. VIPs are impressed by intelligent questions. Pursue an attractive new love interest. Offer financial advice to a relative.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). A self-improvement program is really starting to pay off. Older relatives require more care and attention. Invest time and money in educational projects. Co-workers make a breakthrough. Romance heats up tonight.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Conserve cash now, and a major purchase is soon possible. Persuade a colleague of an unorthodox point of view. Set aside time to spend with a spouse or lover. A child's attitude becomes a stumbling block.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Be a perfectionist on the job. Avoid arguing with employers and higher-ups. A lover's loyalty and persistence is touching. Invest extra cash in a pal's project. Encourage creativity in children or subordinates.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (July 27). The ground-breaking year ahead on the career front gives you a personal edge. New loves are attracted to your alternative methods of finishing business. Praise sets off a chain of good luck for finding top-dollar work. A sweetheart wants to serve you the month in September. Legal matters are settled in January. A Scorpio or Virgo helps ease transitions for you all year.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Let colleagues and co-workers fight it out among themselves without getting involved. A friend misunderstands a joke. Expensive gifts aren't important to a love interest. Learn a creative or technical skill.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Make a list of pros and cons, and a decision becomes clearer. A love interest finds your hesitation charming. Relatives make financial decisions. Celebrate a recent victory. Employers make requests.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Colleagues are inspired by your good works. Avoid asking too much of a close friend. Check arithmetic where large sums of money are concerned. Dazzle a romantic possibility with humor and hospitality.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Complete current projects before starting new ones. Family members hit it off with a romantic partner. Smooth the way for a reconciliation between friends. Discuss the financial details of a business deal.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Be flexible regarding living arrangements. Avoid putting too much pressure on yourself on the job. Contact an old schoolmate. Share an interest with a spouse or lover. Better quality costs more.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Keep quiet about plans and ideas for the time being. Avoid making accusations. A lover makes a grand gesture. Get a pal a special discount. Inform clients and patrons of a mistake. A relative makes a promise.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Demand more from employees and subordinates as a project is finished on time. Help out a loved one who is in need of transportation. Institutions offer financial assistance. Introductions lead to romantic possibilities.

'Round-up Sunday' at Grace

Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards St., will be having "round-up Sunday" for vacation bible school on July 31. "This will be an exciting day," stated Pastor Bob Jones, "so don't miss! Everyone will receive information concerning vacation bible school, plus have a fun time that day. The buses will run their routes beginning at approximately 8:30 a.m."

The vacation bible school will conclude Aug. 5. Classes will begin at 6:30 p.m. each evening and end at 9 p.m. The buses will begin their routes at 5:30 p.m. each evening. Vacation bible school is for children ages three through high school. The daily vacation bible school program consists of bible study, games, music, recreation and refreshments.

There will be a bible school commencement service at 10:30 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 7. Parents, family members and friends of the vacation bible school children are invited and encouraged to attend. Following the morning services on that day, there will be a picnic at the Madison County Baptist Grounds in Mitchell. The average attendance of last year's vacation bible school was 440.

the Shively Heights Baptist Church in Louisville, Ky.

During these 13 years, Grace Baptist Church has seen more than 2,000 people accept Christ as Savior, with more than 800 of those following their Lord in baptism. Many others have joined the church by letter, the budget has doubled and the fellowship has grown. Many things have happened at Grace Baptist Church over the last 13 years.

The people of Grace Baptist Church have set July 31 aside to observe their pastor's anniversary and they invite Dr. Jones' many friends in the community to help them celebrate this day.

As part of the celebration activities, the southern gospel group "Solid Rock," from Newport News, Va., will be in concert during the morning services. The concert will begin at 10:45 a.m.

This will be a day in the life of Grace Baptist Church. Its members invite the public to share in the experience. Sunday school begins at 9:30 a.m., and the morning worship service begins at 10:45 a.m. For more information, call 877-6672.

Bible school planned

The Temple Baptist Church, 1900 Harris Ave., Madison, will hold vacation bible school Aug. 1-5. Sessions will start at 6 p.m. and run until 9 p.m. each evening.

Classes will be offered for preschool-age (those four years old as of Sept. 1) through high school. An adult ladies class will also be offered.

Anniversary celebration

Dr. Bob Jones, pastor of Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards St., and his wife, Peggy, came to Granite City in July of 1981 from

Eagles Aux. 1126 members attend Dist. 7 meeting

Thirteen members of the Granite City Eagles Auxiliary 1126 attended a District 7 meeting on Sunday, July 17, in Shiloh, hosted by Shiloh Auxiliary 545.

The meeting was opened by Judy Blaes, Shiloh president, with the Pledge of Allegiance recited by all in attendance.

The gavel was turned over to Elaine Jaegle, district president, and the following district officers took their stations: Rita Cuoco of Alton, secretary and treasurer; Rose Gibson of Collinsville, historian; Theresa Randazzo of Collinsville, conductor; Grace Gasparian of Collinsville, pro-tem past junior president; Mildred Murphy of Wood River, vice president; Vera Johnson of Granite City, pro-tem chaplain; Martha Howlett of Alton, outside guard; Jean Seper of Alton, pro-tem inside guard; Angie Buehler of Granite City, trustee; and Kathleen Benda of Granite City, district mother.

Joanna Spencer, chaplain; Flo Stokes, past junior president; and Ruth Jorgensen, ritual team chairman; all of Granite City; and Dottie Barrett of Alton, Shiloh inside guard; were all unable to attend.

The minutes of the previous meeting, and the correspondence were read by the secretary and approved by the membership. The conductor escorted the state officers, district, state and auxiliary mothers and the Eagles Aerie grandmother to the altar and presented them with gifts from the Shiloh Auxiliary. Mary Stogner of Collinsville resigned as district ritual team captain due to health reasons. Ruth Jorgensen has been voted to replace Stogner.

Evelyn Dupont reported that she will soon celebrate her 50th year as a member of the Eagles. Kathy Dullen of Shiloh, state mother, is recovering nicely from her recent cancer surgery. Marilyn Oyen of Alton, state reenrollment chairman, requested that all chairmen get their reports into her each month to qualify for points at next year's convention.

Del and Elmer Deloney of Granite City are celebrating their 53rd wedding anniversary. Rita Cuoco of Alton, state project chairman, has adopted the slogan "We Care" and requested the support of all district and state members.

Granite City Eagles Auxiliary received a $5 gift for having the most members in attendance. Collinsville won the traveling trophy for the largest percentage of membership at the meeting.

Cuoco announced that the next meeting will be in Jerseyville on Sept. 18, unless otherwise notified. There will be a nomination of district officers at this meeting. Sixty members and their guests enjoyed a dinner and social hour following the meeting.

AARP holds picnic meeting

The month of July and picnics seem synonymous and in keeping with this theme, the July American Association of Retired Persons Chapter 1340 meeting was celebrated in a picnic fashion.

One hundred twenty-seven casually-dressed members enjoyed sack lunches and home-made desserts. A silent auction took place, proving once again one person's unwanted items are another's treasure.

Attendance prize winners were

Lou Tabor, Leona Clark, Jane Warty, Helen Soroka, Betty J. Smallie, Jim Gerbec, Dorothy Rafferty, Mildred Pisarek, Bert Evans and Bea Harris.

The remainder of the evening was spent dancing and enjoying the music of Jerry's Kids. No AARP meetings are scheduled for August, but a western-style dance is being planned for September.

All seniors 50 and over are welcome. For more information, call 876-8328.

Madison VFW takes top honors

Madison Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 7451 took top honors in the Department of Illinois and the 12th District VFW during the recent department convention held at Rosemont, Ill.

"This small post, which is less than eight years old, received recognition as the 'Outstanding Post-Entire Program' Division F, for the state of Illinois VFW Safety program. In addition, the post earned the title of 'All-State Post' for completing all the required programs and attaining the membership goal.

For these numerous accomplishments, Commander Carl Stratton received the title of "All-State Commander." David Hays received the distinction of "All-State Quartermaster."

At the recent 12th District VFW meeting held in Panama, the post received the 12th District membership award for being tops in the 12th; the VFW National Hospital Award for work with John Cochran Veterans Hospital; the National Buddy Poppy Award; and a Certificate of Commendation from the Veterans Affairs, Veterans Services Officer of Jefferson Barracks Veterans Hospital.

If you would like to view these accolades and find out more about the Veterans of Foreign Wars, visit the post home located at 1414 Seventh St., Madison, or call 452-1200 between 6 and 10 p.m.

Vacation Bible school offered

Area preschool through eighth-grade children are invited to attend Hope Lutheran Church's annual vacation Bible school from 8:30 to 3:30 p.m. Sunday, July 31, through Thursday, Aug. 4, at 3715 Wabash Ave., Granite City.

These five days will be filled with fun and excitement. Magician Brian Ballard, a local magician who has performed at functions ranging from corporate trade shows to private parties with Ozzy Smith of the St. Louis Cardinals Baseball team, will provide entertainment for the closing on Aug. 4.

Anyone needing further information about vacation Bible school or other church services, may call the church office at 976-7568.

Christian Women's Fellowship meets

Christian Women's Fellowship of Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, held its July meeting at the Protestant Welfare office, 1818 Cleveland Blvd., in Granite City. President Lena Seitzer opened the meeting with a prayer and remembered the shut-ins.

The membership approved the 1994-95 budget and scheduled events and programs for the coming fiscal year. A rummage and bake sale will be held Saturday, Aug. 20, in the church fellowship hall.

The ladies that attended the International Quadrennial Assembly at Purdue University presented Seitzer with a tote bag with the assembly logo. The CWF ladies attending presented Doty Gaines of Protestant Welfare nonperishable goods to be distributed to the needy. A tour of the facilities followed.

Reunion held

The Welty family reunion was recently held in honor of the retirement of Jesse and Lenore Welty of Granite City.

Jesse Welty retired May 27 from Nestle Beverage Inc., where he had worked for the past 25 years. Lenore Welty retired June after more than 14 years as an Avon representative.

The reunion took place the week of July 11 in Colorado Springs, Colo. It was attended by the couple's children, spouses and grandchildren. Those present were:

Richard Welty of Crown Point, Ind.; Frances (Welty) and Mike Huffaker and sons, Michael Jr. and Will, of Colorado Springs; Vickie (Welty) and Ron Perry sons, Jonathan and Gregory, all of Granite City, and daughters, Shawn Perry and Veronica (Perry) Christ Chapman, all of Bensld, Ill.; Susan (Welty) and Bob Vincenzes of Bellevue, Neb.; Larry and Anne Welty and sons, Daniel and Mark, of Florissant, Mo.; and Linda (Welty) and Julian Drummond and sons, Nigel and Derek, of Colorado Springs.

The group enjoyed various sightseeing activities throughout the area, including Pike's Peak and the Royal Gorge. A picnic in the retirees' home was held July 16 at Palmer Park in Colorado Springs.

Girl Scout hold 'Frontier Days'

"Frontier Days" was the theme of the Granite City Girl Scout Day Camp held by Granite City volunteers at Camp Torqua in Edwardsville.

Girls participated in crafts, hiking, games and songs. The River Bluffs Council's "Kids on the Block" puppets performed for the Brownies, while the older girls participated in the team challenge course at the camp.

Girls entering fourth grade and older stayed overnight one night and closed down camp the next morning.

Camp directors were Kathy Lickenbrock, Maggie Grobaski and Liz Lengyel. Special activity directors were Dorane Conway and Sylvia Molski. The unit leaders and their assistants were Cindy Whit and Lisa Ely, first and second year Brownies; Geli Beatty and Tammy Ambuehl, third year Brownies; Carol Peterson and Sherri Austin, first and second year Juniors; and Cathy Carmy and Ariene McClellan, third year Juniors and first year Cadettes.

Others volunteering their help for the week were Pam Brown, Karen Brown, Pam Colp, Carolyn Taylor, Donna Kaminski, Audrey Morgan and Donna Harper. Girls volunteering as camp aides were Misty Clark, Katie Kaminski, Stephanie Ambuehl and Julie Mills.

Wise Ways

Are all baked beans equal? Carol Schlitt weighs the value of deli-baked varieties.

INSIDE

Lively Taste

For the shakedown on a spicy seasoning, combine 3 tablespoons chili powder, 2 teaspoons coriander, 2 teaspoons cumin, 1 1/2 teaspoons garlic powder, 3/4 teaspoon leaf oregano and 1/2 teaspoon ground red pepper. Store, covered, in an airtight container. Shake before using to blend. Sprinkle on vegetables, as well as main dishes or stir-fry. Makes about 1/2 cup.

Health & Fitness

Kids' Cuisine

Kids more willingly eat vegetables and fruits in familiar territory. Pancakes with grated carrot or yellow squash, diced peach or blueberries are delicious any time of day.

Medicine Chest

Summer lures people outdoors for fun in the sun, causing problems for people with sensitivity heightened by medication.

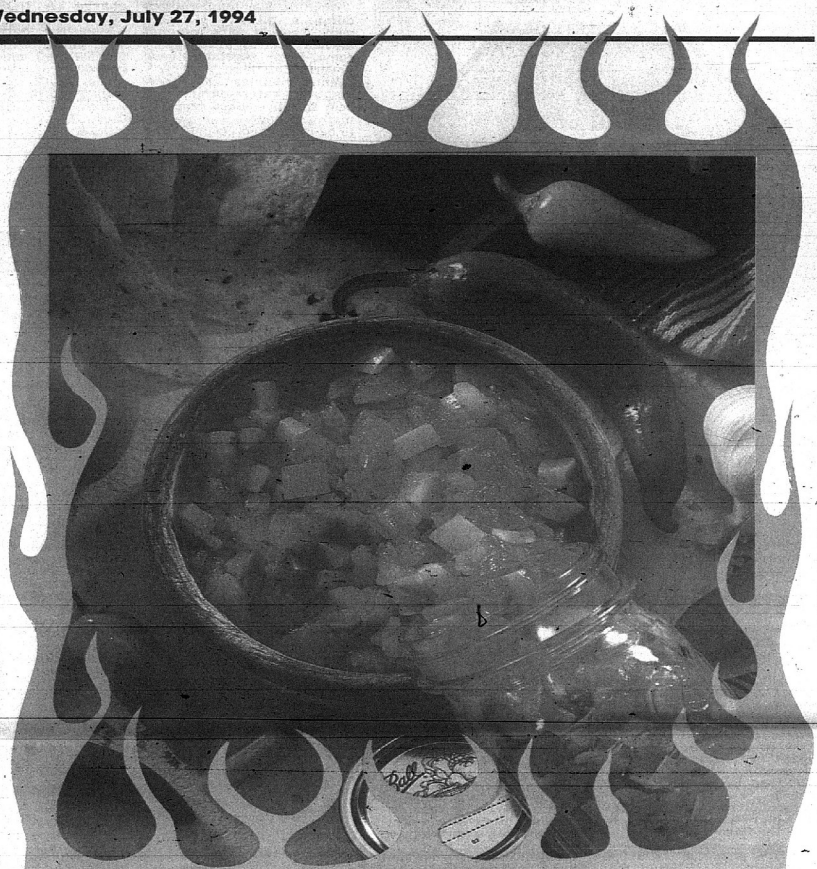

INSIDE

Big Fat Tip

Fat-free mayonnaise offers the most flavor when it declares its independence. On a sandwich, spread it on lettuce next to grilled chicken or tomato, rather than facing the bread where it soaks in and gets lost in other flavors. Adding an herb — fresh or dried basil or fresh coriander just before spreading could be a No. 1 choice — gives the mayo itself prime-time flavor.

Future Shop

Supermarkets continue to increase technology for shoppers. Charge cards and product codes run products through the checkout line with increasing speed and ease. Through Sept. 5, local stores make philanthropy painless, too. Coupon pads at checkout counters will allow shoppers to choose a donation in $1 or $5 amounts to Operation Food Search Inc. and the St. Louis Area Food Bank. The coupon scans a UPC bar code, the amount is added to the shopping charge and the shopper receives a receipt for the deductible contribution.

BABY, IT'S HOT!

By Janice Denham
Staff writer

This is not the heat inside a locked car at 3 p.m. It is not the steam from working in the garden at noon. Nor does it compare to an afternoon of sun at a local ball park when your child loses 26 to 4 in a 3 1/2-inning game.

Because some like it hot, this is the sultry heat that tantalizes.

This is the tempting burn that tingles your lips, the taste that telegraphs the tongue that more will come and the afterglow tinged by flavors that twist a little passion from the edges of less-committed taste buds.

The relish of a hot-dog world has sparked a desire for the heat of salsa, a little Spanish word that translates — deceptively for some — into "sauce."

A homemade variety lets each ingredient speak for itself. Red, fully ripe tomatoes from the back yard offer the potential for scintillating flavors that range from merely spicy to tongue-searingly hot.

Salsa simply requires chopping and mixing. The bonus comes with preserving it for a day when winter meals are as bland, gray and dull as the weather.

Some tips are in order for working with the array of hot peppers that add color to the eye and the tongue. When seeding or cutting peppers, wear rubber gloves to prevent hands from being burned. Keep hands and gloves away from the face. If curiosity for tasting hot peppers straight overwhelms the cook, soothe the mouth's overheated sensation with sips of milk, rather than water. The more seeds left in the mixture, the hotter the salsa will be.

These salsas pack a punch, but are on the lower to middle range of heat, with Traditional Salsa hotter

Tomato tidbits

In stop signs, red indicates stopping, but in tomatoes it means "go" for ripeness.

When choosing fresh tomatoes, look for smooth, firm and plump fruit with good color.

They can be ripened at room temperature out of the sunlight. Putting tomatoes in a paper bag hastens ripening. Current recommendations say tomato flavor is enhanced by avoiding refrigeration. For easy tomato peeling for sauce, plunge tomatoes in boiling water 30 seconds, then in cold water and drain.

Tomatoes — including those huge, beefy tomatoes that make eating a sandwich in summer a heavenly event — have been cultivated over the years to be less acidic. However, orange-colored ones still indicate varieties that reliably should have less acid.

Micro Raves

By Barb Gray
Certified home economist

When outdoor temperatures climb, a microwave oven's quick cooking with minimal kitchen heat is always welcome. Fresh vegetables cook to perfection there.

Many vitamins and minerals are water-soluble and heat sensitive. Because minimal—if any—water needs to be added and cooking time is brief, microwave-cooked vegetables retain more valuable nutrients.

Harvest produce at its peak of ripeness. For maximum fresh-picked flavor, use it as soon as possible. Some vegetables, such as corn and zucchini, actually change flavor because their sugars begin to change to starch shortly after picking.

Heap the garden basket with summer's bounty in familiar and unusual combinations.

This salad variation uses both fresh green beans and carrot. Cabbage also can be used, if desired.

Given the healthful benefits continually being found for vegetables, let a little inspiration find new uses for them. Here lasagna provides the spark and replaces noodles with, of all things, potatoes.

Veggies jump from basket to wave

GARDEN GREEN BEAN SALAD

- 1 lb. fresh green beans
- Water
- 1/2 cup nonfat plain yogurt
- 1 tsp. sugar or sugar substitute
- 2 tbsp. reduced-fat mayonnaise
- 1 tsp. white vinegar
- 1/8 tsp. curry powder
- 2 tbsp. chopped onion
- 1 tsp. chopped red or green bell pepper
- 4 medium carrots, shredded (3 cups)
- Lettuces

Remove bean stems and tips. Snap in 1-inch pieces. In 1-quart casserole, add just enough water to cover beans (beans may become tough if not cooked in more water).

Cook, covered, on high 10 to 12 minutes until beans are tender. Drain. Cool.

In serving bowl, combine yogurt, sugar, mayonnaise, vinegar, curry, onion and green pepper. Add beans and carrots.

Mix lightly. Refrigerate, covered, at least 4 hours until chilled.

Living Lean for Adults

By CYNTHIA BERNER

Toss hearty, crispy fresh salad

It's a puzzle. The effects of hot weather should be minimized. Fresh produce should be maximized.

Solve it with main dish salads. Not only are fruits and vegetables nutrient powerhouses, but visually they are a delight, so experiment with the bounty of salad ingredients now available.

A few radicchio and spinach leaves add color and variety to everyday ingredients. Fruits are an unexpected, pleasant addition. For instance, sliced strawberries or grapefruit sections add zest to plain spinach salad.

Lean sources of protein often seem a fitting addition to move a salad from a side dish into the spotlight. The American Heart Association recommends eating no more than six ounces per day of cooked lean meat, fish and skinless poultry.

By using greens or pasta as the main focus of the meal, this meat, fish or poultry becomes more an accompaniment versus the primary part of the main dish.

Take advantage of the grill today and prepare a few extra skinned chicken breasts to savor on top of tomorrow's main dish salad. If flank steak is on the menu, leftovers add heartiness to a lean summer salad as well.

For another meal, flake water-packed tuna on top of mixed greens, add cooked and cooled new potatoes and steamed fresh green beans, then drizzle with a light, vinaigrette dressing for a filling main dish.

Pasta serves as a base for quick and delicious main dish salads. Toss it with a small amount of olive oil, minced garlic, chopped fresh tomatoes, grilled or lightly steamed zucchini and a few fresh basil leaves for a cook's dream of a simple salad.

Here is a main dish salad with a sampling of styles that add up to a cool and colorful summer supper.

PINEAPPLE CHICKEN SALAD

- 4 chicken breasts, cooked, skinned, chopped
- 1 small onion, minced
- 1/2 green bell pepper, chopped
- 1/2 red bell pepper, chopped
- 1/4 cup red or green grapes, halved
- 1/2 cup pineapple, cut in bite-size pieces
- 1/4 cup plain low-fat yogurt
- 1/4 tsp. curry powder
- 1/8 tsp. ginger
- 1/8 tsp. salt

2 tbsp. plus 2 tsp. reduced-fat mayonnaise

In large mixing bowl, combine yogurt, curry, ginger, salt and mayonnaise. Add chicken, onion, bell pepper, grapes and pineapple. Mix well. Chill several hours to blend flavors.

Makes 4 servings; 201 calories, 6 g fat, 76 mg cholesterol and 134 mg sodium each.

The next "I Love Eating" class will be held from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 31, at the Missouri Botanical Garden, 4344 Shaw Blvd., St. Louis. Admission to the garden that morning and the class is free, but registration is required.

Fruity drinks on ice provide summer refreshment par excellence.

Juice drinks on ice wet thirsty whistles

Really big summer thirsts deserve flavorful quenchers. Some President's Choice juice-cocktails from National Super Markets were put to the test recently.

The drinks offered instant appeal. "Colors look natural, attractive," one tester responded to its look in the clear jar.

Tropical cranberry, orange-strawberry-banana and peach were the flavors tasted.

Peach — less expensive than the others at $1.79 for one quart — gathered the most positive comments. One said she "loved it" and knew her young grandson would, too. Another called the taste "very pleasant, smooth."

Its sweetness came up for comment, too. One said it was "like drinking the syrup from (a) can of peaches." Another thought the sweetness was "sweet, but not too sweet," and underlined the word "excellent" to indicate its flavor appeal.

One tester commented on one of the drinks as a whole. "In a glass full of ice, I think these would be very refreshing."

The nutrition profile varies according to each flavor, staying consistent with national brands. Use of the term "cocktail" means they are not only juice, such as in the case of cranberry drinks, which always receive a sweetener to offset the flavor intensity.

The triple-flavored cocktail was a general fruit blend for most tasters, rather than distinguishing itself with a dominant orange, strawberry or banana flavor.

Tropical cranberry cocktail offered the tasters some surprises.

Like most cranberry drinks, it tended to range on the tangy end of the flavor spectrum. The "tropical" flavors seemed to dilute the intense cranberry sensation. One said it was a "light mix of sweet and tangy, not the flavor I expected."

Another would recommend it to her mom, who likes a tart juice. The orange-strawberry-banana and tropical cranberry flavors cost $2.09 per quart. The prices, about 20 cents less per jar than national brands, were considered competitive alternatives to the higher prices, most tasters felt.

Hot

SWEET PEPPER SALSA

- 7 cups peeled, cored, seeded, chopped tomato (about 5 lbs.)
- 1 cup seeded, chopped green bell pepper
- 1 cup seeded, chopped yellow bell pepper
- 1 cup seeded, chopped red bell pepper
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 tbsp. minced cilantro
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 cup vinegar (5 percent acidity)
- 2 drops pepper sauce

Prepare home canning jars and lids according to manufacturer's instructions.

In large sauce pot, combine tomato, green, yellow and red bell peppers, onion, garlic, cilantro, salt, vinegar and pepper sauce. Bring mixture to boil. Reduce heat. Simmer 10 minutes.

Carefully ladle hot salsa into hot jars, leaving 1/4-inch head space. Wipe rim and threads of jar with clean damp cloth. Place lid on jar with sealing compound next to glass. Screw band down evenly and firmly. Do not use excessive force.

Process 15 minutes in boiling-water canner. Yields about 7 half-pints.

Wise Ways

By CAROL SCHLITT

Are deli-baked beans a bargain or a luxury?

As I pass the supermarket deli counter, my eye catches a sale sign that reads "deli-baked beans — $1.79 a pound." Is this a good buy?

Foods available at the deli counter — hot and cold salads, sandwich meats and side dishes like baked beans — usually offer variety for single and small households. For a family, the value may need to be weighed.

Deli-baked beans usually cost $1.79 to $1.99 a pound. A pound is about 2 cups by volume, with each of four (½-cup) servings costing about 50 cents.

I find the beans satisfactory but need "doctoring" to suit my taste. Chopped onion, bacon bits and a small amount of prepared mustard added before heating makes them more "homemade." Adding these ingredients increases the cost to about $2.50 a pound, closer to 70 cents a serving.

A typical home-baked bean recipe — like the one here using canned pork and beans — costs about 45 cents a serving.

Typically baked beans go to picnics, requiring safe-handling practices. To keep them hot, wrap the hot dish in several layers of newspaper and carry in a box or styrofoam chest.

The beans also can be placed in a thermos tempered to hold a hot item. To temper the thermos, fill it with boiling water 10 minutes, empty the water and replace it with the hot beans. The beans should stay piping hot several hours, longer than placing in a cold thermos.

This quick and easy baked bean recipe can be prepared in about 20 minutes. One serving gives 40 percent of the U.S. recommended daily allowance for fiber.

QUICK BAKED BEANS

½ lb. bacon, diced
1 large onion, chopped
3 cans (28 oz. each) pork and beans
½ cup packed brown sugar
½ cup prepared mustard
1 cup barbecue sauce

In large frying pan, cook bacon and onion until bacon is crisp and onion is tender. Drain drippings.

Add undrained pork and beans, brown sugar, mustard and barbecue sauce. Simmer 10 minutes.

Yields twelve (½-cup) servings; 300 calories, 14 g protein, 50 g carbohydrate, 7.5 g fat (22.5 percent calories from fat), 1.281 mg sodium and 9.3 g dietary fiber each.

Certified home economist Carol C. Schlitt is nutrition and wellness education with University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service at the Edwardsville center.

Sun increases reaction to some common drugs

Even with less time for sunlight during the day, few can resist the urge to be outdoors enjoying the weather. For many people though, exposure to the sun requires caution.

Many prescription medications can increase sensitivity to the sun. For those people, sun exposure should be limited during its peak hours from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. It also may require using sunscreen with a higher sun protection factor (SPF).

Common drugs known to increase sun sensitivity are antidepressants, antimalarials, barbiturates, thiazide diuretics, estrogens, sulfa drugs and some tetracyclines.

Drug-related reactions to the sun are usually a result of ultraviolet-A (UVA) radiation. Those reactions can include abnormal sunburn, swelling, blisters or a red rash.

These reaction-inducing rays, which are responsible for tanning, affect the skin with ultraviolet-B rays, which usually cause burns. Therefore, a product which protects against both UVA and UVB radiation is the best protection.

Some of the products that protect against both UVA and UVB radiation include Total Eclipse, Presun 15, Solbar and Sun Down. A pharmacist can help a consumer find a product — one of these or another — that best suits him or her.

Registered pharmacist Rebecca Coley is assistant professor of pharmacy administration at the St. Louis College of Pharmacy.

Private Label Test Run

Barbara Love, Imperial, is this week's winner of dinner certificates to the Pasta House Company for Summer Sun-Ade.

This simple combination of orange and lemon flavors and variable sweetness comes from her mother-in-law. Sunday meals at her house included crispy fried chicken, American potato salad, corn on the cob, home-grown tomatoes — picked from among hundreds of plants — and Summer Sun-

Ade. Memories of those happy times are revived whenever they make the drink that went with "the best Sunday meal we could ever eat."

The recipe converts easily to frozen treats with special appeal for children.

Weekly winners on the five Wednesdays in August will be taken from entries in the Barbecue Recipe Contest, which should be postmarked by Sunday.

Maybe your favorite dish from the grill is chicken breast flavored overnight in

One winner each week is chosen on the basis of taste and eye appeal, as well as originality, although the recipe need not be original.

Last week's recipe for Schlueter Peach Pie should have included a second entry for sugar. Here is the recipe in its entirety. The Journal regrets the error.

SCHLUETER PEACH PIE

Unbaked pastry for double-crust pie
1 to 1½ cups granulated sugar
¼ cup tapioca
2 tbsp. lemon juice
12 to 16 peaches, peeled, sliced
1 cup flour

Recipe

STUFFED TOMATOES

- 6 large, firm, ripe tomatoes
8 oz. Italian sausage, casing removed
3/4 cup chopped onion
2 cloves garlic, minced
2/3 cup diced zucchini
2 tbs. chopped fresh basil
1 tbs. red wine vinegar
1 tbs. chopped fresh oregano
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1 1/2 cups cooked rice
1/2 cup (2 oz.) shredded provolone cheese
6 tbs. freshly grated parmesan cheese
3 tbs. chopped fresh parsley

Preheat oven to 350°. Slice off and remove tops of tomatoes. Using small knife, remove pulp, leaving shells intact. Discard seeds. Chop pulp. Invert tomato shells on paper towels to drain.

Cook sausage, onion and garlic until sausage is brown and crumbly. Drain off fat. Stir in reserved tomato pulp, zucchini, basil, vinegar, oregano, salt and pepper.

Simmer, uncovered, 10 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in rice, provolone, 4 tablespoons parmesan cheese and parsley. Place tomato shells in 2-quart rectangular baking dish. Spoon filling into shells, mounding tops. Sprinkle with remaining 2 tablespoons parmesan. Bake in preheated oven 25 to 30 minutes until hot and bubbly.

Serve immediately.

Makes 6 servings; 211 calories, 11 g protein, 9 g fat and 21 g carbohydrate each.

FEELING FIT
By Mark Lymberopoulos

High-energy "aerobic" tennis calls for lots of running: run to get the ball, run forward to hit it, run to the net for volleys. Run down every ball, even if you can't get it. Then relay pick up the ball.

A plain doughnut or a plain bagel each have about 200 calories. The difference: the doughnut has 11 grams of fat, while the bagel has one.

Swimming is ideal to tone arms, shoulders and chest. The crawl, backstroke and breaststroke are the best choices for arm muscles: the shoulder and chest muscles provide the main force for motion.

The trick to cutting back on caffeine: do it gradually to avoid headaches and other withdrawal symptoms. Over a few days, replace caffeinated coffee and sodas with decaf versions.

The most effective weight control programs are those that are customized for the needs of the individual. Most people don't need a diet but guidance in a whole new way of eating. Exercise helps build self-esteem and body image—and increases metabolism, too.

You can build self-esteem and body image—and feel really terrific about yourself—with the personalized exercise programs and diet help you'll find at

RUB SEASONS BEEF

Combine 1½ teaspoons grated lemon peel, 1 teaspoon crushed rosemary leaves, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon leaf thyme, ¼ teaspoon coarsely ground pepper and 2 large cloves garlic, crushed. Cover outside surface of 2 pounds beef steak or ground beef patties with the blend up to 2 hours before grilling. The flavor is more pronounced if left on longer.

YELLOW TAGS

are everyday low prices. Day in and day out you get the lowest possible price.

are temporary manufacturer price reductions. The manufacturer reduces our cost and we in turn reduce the price to you. With red tags you save even more off our everyday low prices.

Scott Base aiding Rwanda effort

By Bonita Tillman
Staff writer

U.S. government relief efforts in Rwanda are being aided by Scott Air Force Base personnel who began coordinating military transportation Thursday.

Nearly 1 million Rwandans are in makeshift relief camps just across the country's border, having fled from a civil war in that nation. Supplies of food, drinkable water and medicine are scarce, and an outbreak of cholera is rapidly spreading among the refugees.

Cmdr. Stephen Honda, a spokesman at SAFB's Transportation Command, said the Air Mobility Command based at Scott is supporting the U.S. military in Germany in guiding cargo planes to necessary locations to pick up vehicles and medical supplies.

Two civilian DC-8 cargo planes were already contracted to get the relief effort under way Wednesday. But more work is on the way, Honda said.

"Things are changing rapidly," he said. "The president said we're going to be doing more, and we're working on plans based on some new requirements."

The C-5 and C-141 planes taking part in the effort are not coming from Scott Air Force Base, but being dispatched from the East Coast. Commands at SAFB use C-9 medivacs and C-21 small transport planes for their operations, Honda said.

"Our role is to transport whatever they want from wherever the material is to where it's supposed to be," Honda said.

Although the command handles sea, air and land transport, all the efforts now are concentrated on air traffic, he said.

"We're playing a major role because without our aircraft, there would be no relief effort," Honda added.

More than 20 tons of medical supplies were transported to relief sites last week, and 1,400 tons of rice were scheduled to be flown in, starting Saturday.

One of the other efforts under way Friday was to get a water purification system airlifted from Germany to Rwanda, he said.

The Air Mobility Command has flown more than 40 flights and coordinated more than 80 civilian contracted flights with equipment and supplies.

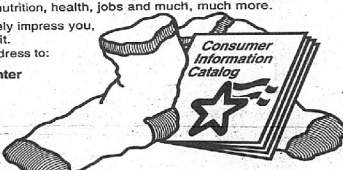

"YOUR FREE CATALOG KNOCKED MY SOCKS OFF"

We get that sort of comment all the time. People are impressed that our free Consumer Information Catalog lists so many free and low-cost government booklets. There are more than 200 in all, containing a wealth of valuable information.

They tell you how to make money, how to save money and how to invest it wisely. They tell you about federal benefits, housing, jobs, and learning activities for children. They fill you in on nutrition, health, jobs and much, much more.

Our free Catalog will very likely impress you, too. But first you have to get it. Just send your name and address to:

College to hold open house

Illinois College will hold an open house in Collinsville on Sunday, July 31, for students who will be seniors this fall at high schools in the Metro-East region.

The open house will begin at 1:30 p.m. at the Collinsville Holiday Inn, located off Exit 11 at the interchange of Interstates 55/70 and Illinois Route 157.

Admission is free and advance registration is not required. Illinois College is an independent, four-year, liberal arts college located in Jacksonville. The college was founded in 1859 and was the first college in the state to award the bachelor's degree. The college had an enrollment of 937 men and women last year.

Information will be provided on financial aid, the admissions process, programs of study, scholarship opportunities, NCAA athletics, housing, campus life and student organizations. Additional information is available by contacting the Illinois College Admissions Office at (217) 245-3030.

Sobol working as SCA volunteer

Brent Sobol of Granite City is working this summer as a member of the Student Conservation Association's high school volunteer program in North Cascades National Park, Washington.

Sobol, a recent graduate of St. Louis University High School, is one of more than 450 high school students taking part in the Student Conservation Association's programs at state parks, forests and other land management areas nationwide. Through the program, students help government agencies manage and preserve America's rich, natural resource heritage.

Sobol's work project will be to replace sections of punchline along the Big Beaver Trail. Often called the American Alps, North Cascades National Park in northwestern Washington offers some of the most breathtaking, spectacular mountain scenery in North America.

The program runs for four weeks. After three weeks of work, living in the backcountry in tents, crew members spend their last week on a wilderness adventure trip.

"Students join SCA high school program for a variety of reasons — many for the excitement and adventure of a new way of living, many for the challenge of doing meaningful and demanding living and survival skills," says the Student Conservation Association's Ray Auger. "Others want to explore a career in managing natural resources."

Sobol, 18, is the son of John and Charlotte Sobol of Granite City. The Student Conservation Association, the nation's largest and oldest conservation volunteer organization, is a nonprofit educational organization based in Charleston, N.H., that provides educational field experience in natural resources and conservation for high school students, college students and other adults. Its programs, which now include Ameri Corps National Service position as well, are supported by contributions from individuals, corporations, public funding sources and foundations, in addition to funds from cooperating agencies.

Schwartz earns degree

Jennifer A. Schwartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schwartz of Granite City, recently received a bachelor of science degree from Bradley University in Peoria.

Bradley University is a fully-accredited, comprehensive, coeducational, private university that was established in 1897.
